

TACKLE LARGE DOCUMENT REVIEW QUICKLY & COST-EFFECTIVELY WITH LAWCLERK

Where Attorneys Go To Hire Remote Associates & Freelance Lawyers

LAWCLERK has a deep pool of U.S. attorneys with significant document review experience available to assist your firm. Whether you have 10 thousand or 10 million documents, LAWCLERK is the best solution to complete your document review expeditiously and cost-effectively.

SCALE WITH SPEED:

In less than two weeks, you can build your custom document review team to complete any document review in a timely manner. Whether you need five remote associates for a two-month document review project or ten remote associates for an on-going document review project that may last 6-12 months, LAWCLERK has the talented lawyers you need. Most opportunities have over 30 applicants within 24 hours, which means you can get up and running immediately once you select your top candidates.

COMMUNICATION:

Your team can interface directly with the remote associates during the work. Having regular weekly meetings with the review team is a terrific way to gain insight into their findings and adjust course as needed along the way.

EXPERIENCE:

LAWCLERK's remote associates have years (many more than 5-10) completing document projects of all sophistication levels using tools like Relativity, Logikcull, Everlaw, Disco, Exterro and more. You can interview candidates to ensure they have the experience and specialization you need.

PROFIT:

Your firm pays weekly based on the hours worked at an average hourly rate of $80 to $140 per hour. The remote associates' work can be billed to your client at a reasonable market rate (see MRPC 1.5) which generates additional profit for your firm without added overhead.

FLEXIBILITY:

We offer flexible solutions for however long you need help to complete the task at hand – whether that is one month or several years. We will work with you to shift gears quickly if you suddenly need more help. On the flip side, if you happen to find the “smoking gun” and the case settles, there is no obligation to continue.

EXPERT ADVICE:

You'll be provided with a dedicated LAWCLERK advisor who will work with you to find the customized solution for your firm's needs.

Today's savvy law firms know they need to incorporate alternative hiring solutions to build an efficient, sustainable and profitable business model. Sophisticated clients will often demand that their lawyers adopt these strategies as well.

SUCCESS STORY

We've worked with boutique firms to 100+ lawyer firms to build successful strategies for large scale document reviews. Recently, a mid-size firm from Illinois leveraged LAWCLERK to quickly assemble a team of four full-time remote associates to complete a large document review via Relativity. Each remote associate was asked to work around 120 hours per month at an hourly rate of $100.

In the past four weeks, here's how the document review team has performed:

- Worked 479.94 hours to review and tag thousands of documents.
- The firm paid LAWCLERK $47,994.
- The firm was able to bill this work to their client at a reasonable hourly rate of $300/hour, for a total of $143,982.
- Not only did the team complete a fast and efficient review of thousands of documents, but the work generated an additional $95,988 of profit for the firm in just one month!

And if you bill on a contingency, LAWCLERK offers the cost-effective solution to skilled document review by experienced lawyers with hourly rates of $80 to $140 depending on the sophistication of the work you need.
